The first settlers in the attractive, growing community that is now Pickerington, area in 1808. In 1815, Abraham Pickering laid out the original plat of old Pickerington. In 1815, relatively few people lived in the area, and Pickerington was an agricultural and dairy community, seemingly distant from both the county seat and the state capital, Columbus.

The growth and prosperity since 1965 have forever changed Pickerington from a village to a major city in northwest Fairfield County. Equidistant between Lancaster, Columbus, today's Pickerington is both a Columbus suburban community and a rural zone leading to agricultural and open spaces to the east and southeast.

The City's population as estimated by the Mid Ohio Regional Planning Commission for 2002 was 10,452. The unincorporated Violet Township (estimated population Pickerington and Columbus) was approximately 17,495.

As a result of reaching an official population of over 5,000 persons, Pickerington was incorporated as a city by the Ohio Secretary of State in 1991. Pickerington is the second city in Fairfield County and is second in size only to Lancaster.

An official Pickerington seal, designed by local resident Nancy Brackbill, was adopted and gradually replaced other symbols as the official Pickerington identification. The seal appears on the cover of this Annual Report, identifies city vehicles, and is used on all official correspondence and publications. In 1996 the City was designated as the "Violet Capital of Ohio."

The Municipal Charter, which was enacted in 1980, set up a Mayor-Council-Manager government. The Charter was amended by the voters in 1990, and again in 2000.

The Mayor is elected by popular vote, performs ceremonial functions, recommends appointment of and acts as supervisor of, the City Manager, is presiding officer and an ex-officio member of all Council Committees, appoints the Clerk of Court, and vetoes Council-passed legislation.

The popularly elected seven member City Council is the legislative body and possesses exclusive appropriations powers. Council appoints the Law Director, Finance Director, Engineer, and concurs on the Mayor's appointment of the City Manager. Council also makes citizen appointments to several boards and commissions. There are four standing Committees which Council appoints: Finance, Rules, Safety, and Service.

> Job Opportunities

The City Manager is the chief administrator of the City, is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the municipality and municipal employees and appoints all employees appointed by Council.

Growth management issues continue to dominate the public agenda. Elected officials and citizens of the area hold strong and varying views regarding housing density, industrial and commercial areas, transportation, residential growth, and provision of services, comprehensive planning, annexation by Pickerington and other cities, and appropriate area growth.

Nevertheless, progress on growth issues was once again the hallmark of activity

Administration Information

The cornerstone of the organization's philosophy is its community oriented roots, customer based service style policing effort. Employees strive to achieve their goal by providing the citizens of Pickerington with a full range of police services 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and 365 days a year. Both the Division and employees are committed to providing exceptional service and maintain an excellent "quality of life" environment for the public.

Organization

The Division accomplishes this unified goal through the efforts of all its components which include several internal components. The Administrative component of the chief of police, two police commanders, and an administrative assistant. The Patrol function is staffed with three sergeants, two senior patrol officers and several patrol officers. The Investigative unit is comprised of a senior investigative detective. The Communications Division consists of a communications supervisor, seven full time and one part time dispatcher. Support services include a Training Officer and a Community Relations Officer.

Function

The specific function of the administrative component is to oversee and coordinate the general operation of the Division of Police. Additionally, the administrative component is responsible for budget management, purchasing, grant writing, personnel management, and other related issues including labor relations, research and development, public relations, policy and organizational development. In order to ensure the highest quality of service in these and other areas it is essential that the administrative component work cooperatively with the public, city officials, community organizations, and other law enforcement agencies. The partnership developed among the various departments and organizations ensures that the department provides the services that are unique to our community.

Budget

The Division of Police budget is primarily provided for by two funding elements: a permanent police mill levy and the city's general fund. In addition to these funding elements, the department aggressively pursues other sources of revenue through anti-crime enforcement, seizure and forfeiture, creative application, supplemental service contracts, and support from private and community organizations. The Division, city, and taxpayers alike benefit from these and other funding resources.

Department Motto

The Department's motto is to "Serve and Protect". Personnel pride themselves on the personal touch service offered to the community. The department's philosophies of grass roots policing and strive to be proactive rather than reactive. It is for this, and other reasons, that the community continues to strongly support its police department.

Training

Training continued to be a high priority for the Police Department. The Chief and the Manager support training activities; therefore, employees receive specialized training in accident investigation, DUI enforcement, firearm safety, labor relations, cultural sensitivity, and management skills.

Compliments and Complaints

The department is constantly seeking to improve both internally and on the outside service level. One way to monitor the success of the department's service is through surveys conducted randomly throughout each year. The last survey showed an impressive 93% approval rate. Annually, the department receives letters of compliment and complaints, each are reviewed and evaluated to determine effectiveness and/or areas of improvement. All are followed up on with the officer. All complaints filed against or with the department are reviewed and logged on a departmental complaint log report. The report is evaluated annually to identify areas of improvement and/or concern. Typically, compliments outweigh complaints by nearly a 3 to 1 ratio.

Court Liaison

The court liaison officer attends court hearing where officers' appearances are mandatory. The officer also performs other duties such as transporting submissions and serving of court related documents and legal forms. TI also serves as Pickerington Mayor's Court Bailiff. The Bailiff maintains / court discipline, procedure, and decorum.

In 2002, the court liaison officer saved the Division and city thousands tax revenues in overtime wages.

Training

Training is an ongoing process throughout the police department. Persc training in all areas of police service. The use of police academies, in-si specialized instruction is provided. Based on assignment and position in department officers also receive higher educational level courses, inclu notable law enforcement courses at the Northwestern University Traffic the Police Executive Leadership College, and the FBI National Academy
